

Clothes and Spirituality

By the law of mutual attraction, the clothes we wear is connected to our spiritual emotions. As we are mostly spiritually "dead", we tend to wear dark, lifeless colors. There was a time, for a short period, when we started to wake up, the "flower power" period. Then people wore bright colors. This period was quickly stamped out by the evil ones and we went back to wearing dark colors again. But we are gradually moving into a more positive period - the ascension as it is called. Then people will start to wear bright colors again. So the dark colors that you wear is just a reflection of your spiritual state. One cannot call it evil as such. It is just that we wear clothes that reflect our spiritual state.
