

Wifi and Cellular Signals

The signals coming from various communication devices are not, in themselves, harmful but the carrier waves can be.

The carrier waves have been deliberately chosen to interfere with certain brain patterns.

Those who use computers or mobile telephones cannot avoid being affected by these carrier waves so must accept them.

It is hoped that as Ascension progresses, so the carrier wave frequencies will be altered to less harmful waves.

TV screens, using LED's are only really harmful to people who have epilepsy problems.
